

The Collection

You now know how and why this collection was started by the American Legion.

This collection is a legacy to our children, grandchildren and future generations of students and educators. It is the only investment our list of donations that can be seen and used for generations to come.

Your donations are used to purchase items of history on New York State and Long Island. Items donated by members have been many and have contributed to the success of this program.

At present only about 20 Posts are participating in the program by making a donation to the fund for a member who is deceased of in honor of someone or something they want remembered. It's a great way to let the families of your embers that you care about them. They will receive a notice of the donation that you have made on behalf of or in memory of their loved ones.

So... Let's get yourself and your Post involved and make this project a class one priority on your donations list. You'll be glad you did and you'll be invited to the Hofstra Luncheon on Veterans day to say "Thank you for your help".

The James MacLean Collection is not just books and the items that are in the collection have to be purchased with your donations.
